MAY HAVE TO SUE MORAN.

Street Paving in Ogden Done by Him

Not Satisfactory, Engineer Says.

It becomes more evident each day that litigation between P. J. Moran, the Salt Lake contractor, and the city, will result over the contracts secured by Moran in Ogden, on account of the claim that the work he did here in street paving was unsatisfactory and that the work is of an inferior quality to that called for in the contract. The city engineer, who with the street committee, was empowered by the city council to investigate the work, is of the opinion that Moran can be held responsible. When Moran had finished the work and the time had expired for holding the guarantee fund, he was required to give bonds to protect the city. The pavement soon began to wear and crack and the contractor was called upon to repair it. He came to Ogden and asked the city engineer to indicate where the city desired the paving patched, and the city engineer refused to point out the places, for the reason that had he done so it would have freed Moran from responsibility.

Moran then filled in the holes and covered the seams, but he was not released from the bonds. The time on the bonds expired in December, and the city engineer notified the surety company of the work being unsatisfactory, but nothing has been heard from either the company or the contractor since.

Moran also laid the concrete on Twenty-fourth street between Washington and Grant avenues. No estimate has been given him as yet for this work, it being refused because of being unsatisfactory. Interest on the money expended by Moran is all that has been paid for this job, and it is likely that this will also have to be straightened out in the courts.

The city engineer says that he offered to settle the Twenty-fourth street disagreement by arbitration, but that Moran rejected the offer.

FIND SITE FOR COTTAGE.

Trustees of State Industrial School Reach Conclusion.

The trustees of the state industrial school met last night and decided to erect a new girls' cottage one-half mile north-east of the present building on land owned by the school.

Five acres by regulation and the condition of the heating apparatus of the school were discussed. The opinion was given that the heating plant should be apart from the main building and this matter will be taken up with the governor.

Three inmates were recommended for parole, but before they are released Harry Joseph will investigate the condition of the homes to which they are destined to go. If they are not what they should be, the boys will be kept at the school until a suitable place is found or until they are 21.

SIX ONLY RESPOND.

County Attorney Harris Still Lacks Necessary Information.

But six of the persons whose names were attached to the petition addressed to County Attorney N. J. Harris, asking that gambling be suppressed in Ogden, have seen fit to reply to the communication sent by that official to each of the twenty-four signers, in which he asked that they furnish him with what information they had. The replies came in the nature of personal calls from the six, who insisted that they had heard that gambling existed and that it was plainly the duty of the county attorney to suppress it.

Following along the same path that he outlined in his letter to the signers of the petition, the county attorney informed the men that if they could procure evidence and sign a complaint he would immediately bring an action to close the gambling halls, if any were found to be in operation in the city. Mr. Harris stated that none of the men were ready to attach their names to a complaint, and it is unlikely that any further attention will be paid to the matter by him.

DECIDE ON ORGANIZATION.

Chamber of Commerce of Ogden and Weber County.

The organizers of the Chamber of Commerce met at the city hall last night and adopted the name of "Chamber of Commerce of Ogden and Weber County." Committees were appointed to draft articles of incorporation, to select a list of fifteen persons from which the directors will be chosen, and also to suggest a man for president of the organization. An enrollment of 198 was reported. Another meeting will be held next Thursday night.

Farmer Badly Injured.

Benjamin Bitten, a farmer of West Weber, was thrown under a cultivator yesterday and had his right leg broken in five places. His horses became unmanageable and ran away. In attempting to stop them his arm caught in the machine, hurling him to the ground. He was dragged for a considerable distance before the horses succeeded in breaking loose. The cries of the injured man were heard by a brother, who hastened to his assistance and carried him to the house. Dr. Edward I. Rich of this city was summoned and an investigation showed that one of the bones of the leg had been fractured in three places and the other in two places. With difficulty the fractures were reduced.

Death of Nathan L. Drake.

Nathan L. Drake, prominent in this section for several years, and at one time a resident of this city, died at a hospital in Butte on Wednesday, as a result of a surgical operation. The body will be brought to Ogden today for interment. His daughter, Mrs. Etherington of this city, survives him. Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Wilson ward meeting house.

or where he was going. He is being held in the county jail.

EMERSON GOES TO JAIL.—Frank Emerson, who stole a suit of clothes from an Ogden clothing store on Wednesday, was yesterday sentenced to pay $45 or serve forty-five days in the city jail. He went to jail.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Ed S. Liddle and Miss May M. Maxey, both of Ogden; David Wilkinson and Miss Bertha Gerber, both of Ogden; and to Morris T. Hodges of Garden City, Utah, and Miss Myrtle Cottle of Fish Haven, Idaho.

ORIGIN OF APRIL FOOL'S DAY.

To The Salt Lake Herald.—What is the origin of April Fool's day? April Fool's day is the name given to the first of April from the custom of playing tricks upon people or sending them on bootless errands on that day. Some have derived it from some ancient pagan custom, such as the Hindu festival (March 31) among the Hindus, or the Roman feast of fools. In France the person tricked is called "poisson" (a fish) (April fish), and in Scotland he is called a "gowk" (cuckoo).
